About Pravara

Pravara has become role model of rural development for empowering all strata of the society with knowledge and social fabric. The Pravara Rural Education Society (PRES) was established by Late Padmashri Dr. Vithalrao Vikhe Patil, father of the cooperative sugar movement in India, who firmly believed in the socio economic transformations of rural India through technical education. The Society has taken several giant leaps in establishing educational institutions that impart high quality and need-based education from KG to Ph.D.

The dreams of a visionary father were translated into reality by the worthy son and a towering leader Late Pambhushan Dr. Balasaheb Vikhe Patil, former Minister of Heavy Industries, Govt. of India. He was a “Social Scientist”, who had a futuristic vision and had strived for the overall development of rural India by keeping poorest of poor at the center of development throughout his illustrious life. His innovative ideas and ability to implement those ideas to fruition has left an indelible imprint on the rural landscape of Maharashtra.

The prime mover for this gigantic effort has been our Chairman, Hon’ble Radhakrishna Vikhe Patil, Former Cabinet Minister for Housing Department of Maharashtra. Today about 42000 students are pursuing their quality education from 102 institutions. Pravara Rural Education Society received “Best Education Society Award” from Govt. of Maharashtra in 2003 and “Educational Excellence Award” by Indus foundation, USA in 2016. The contribution of PRES for rural development was appreciated by his Excellence Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam, Former President of India- “Beautiful minds, creative minds & noble minds of Loni. My Greetings and Wishes”
